

Guideline on Traceability of fruit juices

The ability to trace fruit juice products from the final consumer to the grower, “from table to tree”, is essential to enable Health Authorities to exercise control and for the food industry to ensure safety is a basic element of the quality of their products.

The objective of this guideline is to detail the minimum requirements for the traceability of fruit juice and similar, fruit derived products in the modern distribution chain.

Contents

1. Introduction
2. Objective
3. Scope
4. Involved parties within the supply chain
5. Traceability within the whole supply chain
6. Traceability exercise

The AIJN Guideline on Traceability of fruit juices is available to subscribers of the AIJN COP.